

COWPERTHWAIT & CO.
James Cowperthwaite, President
378 South Pontiac Way
Denver, Colorado 80224
Tel: (303) 355-3957 Fax: (303) 355-3984
E-Mail: sarava @ix..netcom.com

Monday, July 24, 2000

Marc Diament
Marc Diament Architecture
2175 South Jasmine Street, Suite 221
Denver, Colorado 80222

Dear Marc,

As a Trustee and Interim Head of School for the past year, I was in charge of the Logan School during the first year at our new Lowry campus which you designed and helped build as supervising architect. I also happen to be a real estate developer and builder whose job was to help Logan get settled in its new digs.

Your work at Logan inspires. A few examples follow; there are many more:

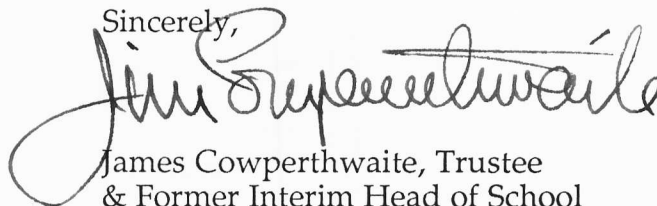

- You took a thirty year old prison that fettered human spirits and transformed it into a K-8 school that liberates human spirits;
- Where dark and confining corridors led to more of the same, you created a surprising variety of intriguing vistas and sense of openness;
- Where a succession of stifling dormitory rooms and offices once were, you created expansive and colorful classrooms where gifted children and teachers can let imaginations soar; and
- When fire codes required second floor egress, you designed a multi-functional balcony with seating areas, whimsical canopy frames, and stairways that are as good for sitting and artistic production, as they are for exiting the building.

I marvel at your attention to detail, careful documentation of construction, and punch list/warranty follow-through that honors human persistence, fairness, and diplomacy.

You combine architectural skill with an eye for practical artistry. You bring spiritual integrity to your work. Your role in creating The Logan School campus will not be forgotten.

Thank you, Marc, also, for your lovely sense of humor and positive spirit.

Sincerely,

James Cowperthwaite, Trustee
& Former Interim Head of School