To Whom it may Concern,

Marc Diament Architecture has just completed the design and construction administration for the complete remodel and renovation of the Englewood City Hall Restrooms.

We can say without qualification that the thoroughness of Marc insured that the City would get a great job.

Marc is truly a knowledgeable and detailed person. He is painstakingly accurate in his drawings and specifications. His written communications have provided us with an item by item and issue by issue account of the entire project.

Marc had the best interest of the City as a top priority. He demanded strict adherence to the plans and the finest workmanship from the contractor.

We look forward to working with Marc Diament Architecture again in the future and recommend that you do too.

Yours Very Truly,

Ron Miller
