To Whom It May Concern:

I am pleased to recommend Marc Diament to you in his capacity as architect and, even more, as an interested and thorough researcher and planner for design and construction projects. His interest in historical accuracy is commendable.

In my previous capacity as Mayor of Ordway, Colorado, I was privileged to work with Marc on the stabilization and historic renovation project for the Ordway Town Hall, a building dating back to 1922 that is in dire need of stabilization as the first phase of action. This will be an ongoing project in which future phases are to include historic renovation and, hopefully, the development of a civic complex in the same block as the town hall. The quality of work the Town is receiving from Marc is excellent. He has done in-depth interviews and investigations that have led to important insights into the history of the building structure. These are incorporated in his drawings and add to the accuracy of the stabilization project at hand.

Marc has the capacity to look ahead and attend to details that will complement the entire project in all its phases.

It has been a pleasure to work with Marc. I highly recommend his work and his dedication to our project.

Sincerely,

Nancy L. Moore
Recent and former Mayor of Ordway
